Did you know that?

3 & 4 year olds are typically able to do more than many of us think. There are some ways we can encourage them: Expect more, raise the bar and your child will probably stretch to meet it; Resist doing for them what they can do for themselves; Don't redo what they've done. Your child will notice and it may be discouraging; Let your child solve simple problems and pause before helping. Give your child a chance to experience his/her successes; Let your child be a helper or even give them a simple chore. This will build confidence.
